COUNCIL OKAYS DRIVEWAY PLANS FOR NEW CAR WASH-GAS STATION

by Al Skolnik

By unanimous vote, the city council on Monday, November 2, overruled its city manager to grant a variance of driveway entrance requirements at Beltway Plaza. In a personal appearance before council, Sidney Brown, developer of Beltway Plaza, pleaded that the combination gas station-car wash to be located behind the Phillips 66 gas station on Gentry Drive needed two 40-foot driveway entrances as a safety factor. The city ordinance, as does the county ordinance, calls for 30-foot wide driveway entrances, which city manager James Giese said were the prevailing widths of exits and entrances to nearby car washes.

Brown said that the combination gas station-car wash, where car washes are given at reduced prices with the purchase of gasoline, is a new concept which requires wider driveways. This is because there are two streams of traffic — one for the car wash and one for the gasoline (not all people who purchase gasoline are getting car washes at the same time). With driveways narrower than 40 feet, Brown said, cars tend to get stacked up and block through-traffic, thus creating a hazard.

Taking advantage of Brown's presence, Mayor Francis White asked the developer what his future plans were for the shopping center. Brown said that he has thirty stores lined up for leases and that there will be an all-weather, enclosed, air-conditioned mall running west of Klein's.

In reply to a question by councilman Joel Katz, Brown held out hopes that the erosion problem created by the hills of dirt surrounding Klein's would be taken care of as part of the overall development of the mall within the next 12 months.

Lakeside Drainage

The council accepted Giese's recommendations for the expenditure of $1,000 for materials and $500 for labor to correct the storm drainage problem on Lakeside Drive. During the cold weather, ice has been forming at the curb lines to almost half the width of the street at spots.

The city proposes to partially correct the problem by installing a small catch basin and storm drain with 15 inch pipe from approximately the yard line of 21 and 23 Lakeside Drive to the existing catch basin near 17 Lakeside Drive. The city will also install some drain pipes to pick up springs that weep in this area. It is hoped that the work can be done before winter sets in.

Anti-noise drive

The plea for an anti-noise ordinance or stricter regulations was renewed by Stephen Polaschik and Werner Neupert. Polaschik focused his attention on gasoline-driven airplane and boat models. He thought the park area should be especially free of noise pollution so as to assure the tranquility expected of a park. Neupert suggested that electric-driven models be substituted for gasoline-driven models which, he said, are the main cause of high-pitch screeching noises that are so annoying. He presented a petition signed by 65 citizens calling for anti-noise regulations and closed by saying that "models should be seen but not heard."

The council moved to refer the matter to the city's Park and Recreation Board (PRAB). PRAB, at its request, also had referred to it the anti-pollution ordinances concerning outdoor burning, littering, and water pollutants. With respect to the latter, Giese said that he has now been advised that a new law passed by the State legislature at its last session may make the proposed water pollutant ordinance either superfluous or in conflict with State law.

Police Mutual Aid Pact

Council agreed to participate in a police mutual aid agreement sponsored by the Metropolitan Council of Governments. Under this agreement, Greenbelt police, in times of emergency, may be asked to reinforce county police activities. Authorization of the city manager would be needed. Council said that it intended Greenbelt's police to merely have a back-up role.

Concert Band

Council granted a request by Greenbelt Concert Band (and supported by PRAB) that $500 of its $750 contribution be allotted for the employment of the present director as a paid conductor. The paid conductor will be employed by the city in the same manner as other part-time recreation employees. To make up the difference, the band will hold fund-raising drives, the first scheduled for tomorrow (Friday) night as a dinner-dance at the American Legion.

Cemeteries

The Greenbelt Historical Society asked council for assistance in improving the three historical cemeteries in the city. Council asked the city manager to report back on what was feasible at this time. Giese said that one of the cemeteries — near the State Roads Commission building — is now being maintained by the city. The second — the Walker family cemetery on the Golden Triangle — is inaccessible; some council members therefore thought that it might be better to wait until the property is developed. The third cemetery — the Hamilton family burial site — is located on school board property, and Giese was asked to get school board reaction to improvements.

Upon receiving the resignation of Richard Stevenson from PRAB, the city council appointed Nancy Neupert, 36 Lakeside Dr., to fill out the rest of the term to May 1971.

The council was once again without the services of council member Dick Pilski who, Mayor White reported, is recuperating from his recent operation.

Greenbelt Concert Band Sponsors Autumn Dance

The Greenbelt Concert Band is sponsoring its first Annual Autumn Dance on Friday, November 6, at the Greenbelt American Legion Post No. 136 Hall on Greenbelt Road at the Beltway. This dance is to help the band fund for purchasing specialized instruments and miscellaneous expenses. Greenbelters can show their appreciation of the Band's work by purchasing tickets from any band member or by calling Steve Polaschik, 474-9352, for instant ticket delivery. A top notch band from Washington will produce music to help chase the monotony of movies and TV. at least from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Free Rubella Vaccination

There will be a rubella mop-up campaign on Sunday, November 15, from 1 to 4 p.m. Closest sites are Beltsville Fire Dept., 4911 Prince George Ave. and Glenn Dale Fire Dept., Glenn Dale Rd.

Sharp Rise In Operating Costs Expected for GHI

Greenbelt Homes, Inc. members were alerted this week to the probable need for a special membership meeting to consider an increase in monthly charges for 1971. Under the by-laws, such a membership meeting is required whenever an increase of more than 10 percent in operating costs (defined to exclude mortgage payments and use of reserve funds) is foreseen. Ten percent of 1970 operating costs amounts to about $140,000.

At last Thursday's special board meeting, GHI manager Roy Breashears broke the bad news to the board. Major factors that are expected to hike operating costs more than 10 percent in 1971 are:

1. The escalating cost of fuel oil, which is expected to cost $87,000 more in 1971 than in 1970. Part of this increase is attributable to a changeover to a "cleaner" oil (#2) to cut down on the impurification of the atmosphere.

2. The rise in trash collection fees charged by the city beginning July 1970 — from $2.50 to $3.25 per unit per month. In addition, the city has stopped GHI from using the landfill for disposal of building trash. This will require the corporation to use its own vehicles and manpower to dispose of this trash by hauling to the county dump. These two items will result in an increase of approximately $24,000 in 1971.

3. Cost-of-living increase of 6% for GHI staff plus the need for additional staffing so as to assure more timely and effective maintenance will add an estimated $39,500 to the 1971 budget.

4. Yet-to-be-calculated increases arising from the uninterrupted rise in the price of materials, contract work, water and electricity, telephone, office supplies, legal expense, payroll taxes, etc.

Breashears noted that almost all of these items are beyond the power of the corporation to control.

The board has tentatively scheduled a special membership meeting for December 2 or 3. This meeting will be preceded by two open budget meetings of the board on November 17 and 24, which members are urged to attend.

Parkdale Sr. High News

"The Beginning of the Panther Era" is the theme of Parkdale Senior High's first homecoming to be held on Saturday, November 7. Alumni are invited back to the school to attend a football game against the Tigers of Duval at 2 p.m. and a semi-formal dance at 8 p.m.

A halftime program will be presented by the marching band, the majorettes, and the pom-pom girls. The school's first Homecoming Queen will be crowned.

Members of the school newspaper staff, Collage, will sell hot dogs and the Senior Class will sell beverages at the game.

Coaches Clinic

On November 14 the Greenbelt Recreation Department will sponsor a basketball clinic designed for Boys' Club and CYO coaches. The Clinic will operate between the hours of 9 a.m. and 2 p.m., at the Greenbelt Youth Center, Greenbelt Maryland.

Topics for discussion are practice planning and skill drills; individual offense and defense; and officiating and rule changes. Three top high school coaches (Bill Franklin, Bill Gardner, and Ed McDonald) will accompany an ex-NBA official (Ed Horstkamp) in conducting the event. A fee will be charged, which includes a buffet luncheon. Call 474-6878 to register.

Democrats Register Normal Majorities In Greenbelt; Hogan-Hart Race Exception

by Al Skolnik

Greenbelt voters registered their normal Democratic tendencies at the General Election on Tuesday, November 3, with one noticeable exception. Republican Lawrence J. Hogan, seeking a second term as Congressman from the Fifth District, attracted 47 percent of the Greenbelt vote, in contrast to the less than 40 percent vote received by most of the Republican ticket. In light of this showing, it was not surprising that he carried the Fifth District over challenger Democrat Royal Hart by 30,000 votes.

More Apartments for Smith-Ewing Tract

A copy of a preliminary plan for development of Smith-Ewing North, a subdivision on a tract of land north of Greenbelt Rd. and east of the Baltimore-Washington Parkway, has been received by the city and referred for study to the city's Advisory Planning Board. The application was filed by Allen Kay, under whose name a similar application was made for development of the existing Glen Oaks Apartments on the south side of Greenbelt Rd. The proposed name for the new development is Greenbrier.

The plan calls for development of 103 acres at the eastern and western ends of the tract, abutting upon the Parkway and the Goddard Space Agency site, respectively. These sections of the tract are zoned R-30, which would permit construction of apartments at a density of 12 units per acre — allowing about 100 apartment units for the entire tract, if the plan is approved. A center section, triangular in shape, is zoned for single family residences. Ten acres adjacent to the Space Agency are reserved for a school.

Discussion On Drugs At North End School

The public is invited to attend North End School's panel discussion on drugs to be held Tuesday, Nov. 10 at 8 p.m. at the school.

A question-and-answer period will follow the presentations of the panelists, who include: Detective Sgt. John C. Krob, Greenbelt City Police Department; Arthur Kaufman, M.D. local physician; the Rev. Robert Field of the Greenbelt Community Church; Mrs. Edith Weinrich, Guidance Counselor at the Greenbelt Junior High School; Robin Hagaman, Assistant Administrator of Prince Georges County Hospital; John S. Sinclair, Assistant States Attorney, Prince Georges County; and Mrs. Kenneth Nowak, Supervisor of Health Education, Prince Georges County Public Schools.

Library Closed Nov. 11

All branches of the Prince Georges County Memorial Library will be closed on Wednesday, Nov. 11, Veterans' Day.

Leading the Democratic ticket in Greenbelt was Democratic Governor Marvin Mandel. He amassed 3,816 votes to 1,152 for Republican C. Stanley Blair, for a 77-percent majority. The Democratic margins for other Statewide offices were of similar magnitude with the exception of the race for Attorney General. Here Democratic incumbent Francis B. Burch encountered stiff competition from Republican Thomas M. Anderson and ended up with a 57 percent majority in Greenbelt.

Incumbent Democratic Senator Joseph P. Tydings defeated Republican J. Glenn Beall in Greenbelt by a 3,403 to 1,637 vote, a 68 percent majority. Pre-election predictions, however, that a more than 60-percent majority in Greenbelt would presage a Tydings victory in the State proved wrong, as Tydings lost the State by about 30,000 votes. Mandel, however, carried the State by more than 300,000 votes.

Examination of the vote by precinct (see box) for these major contests showed that Springhill Lake gave the Democrats the largest margin of victory, with Center school precinct next, and North End precinct last. Hogan even registered an absolute majority in North End.

In the races for the General Assembly at Annapolis, the Democratic Senate and House of Delegates candidates had no difficulty in racking up almost 2 to 1 majorities in Greenbelt. State Senator Edward T. Conroy's majority of 72 percent over Republican Richard L. Otto was particularly impressive.

At the county level, Democratic candidates registered substantial but somewhat subdued majorities in Greenbelt for all posts, ranging from 58 to 65 percent. The major exception was in the county commissioners race where Democratic incumbent Francis J. Aluisi ran a low fifth in the Greenbelt balloting. Hot on his heels were Republican challengers John B. Burcham, Jr. and Lucille B. Potts. Democrat incumbent Francis B. Francois was the high man in the Greenbelt balloting for county commissioners.

Charter for Prince Georges county won an overwhelming vote of support in Greenbelt, by a 3,377 to 787 vote. All the constitutional questions, even those dealing with the prayer issue and the calling of another constitutional convention, were approved by substantial majorities.

About 59 percent of the registered Greenbelt voters — 5,167 out of 8,829 — went to the polls. This was not as high as the 76 percent who voted in the last off-year election of 1966 which featured the Agnew-Mahoney race, but was higher than the 56 percent who voted in 1962.

Beltway Plaza Plans

The Prince Georges County Planning Board on October 28 approved preliminary subdivision plans for two parcels on Beltway Plaza. Parcel "O" is the bulk of the area between S. Klein's and the small group of stores near Gentry Drive and contains 15 acres. Sidney Brown, developer of Beltway Plaza, has indicated that he has financing for a large number of small stores and shops to be located on a mall in this area. Parcel "P" is a .41-acre tract adjacent to and west of Gentry Drive. It is the city's understanding that this parcel is to be used for a car wash.

Community Church News

This Sunday, Nov. 8, at 11 a.m., the two Probe discussions currently being conducted at the Church on "New Trends and Concepts" and "Senior Citizens Choosing A New Life Style" will be continued. A group of the laity will interact on "Communion - its value - its meaning."

A "three inter-generational" dialogue involving experiential decisions will be discussed. How do you make decisions? What is your son/daughter responsibility? How do you live with the new responsibility of a parent living in new surroundings?

The worship service is at 10 a.m. and the community is cordially invited.

City Notes

The frequent autumn rains continue to hamper the contractor in completing the repaving of Southway Rd. A paving crew was able to work a few hours on Oct. 29, expecting to return the next day, Friday, to finish the job. Instead, the rains came, delaying work until Monday, when a portion of the job of laying the base course for the street was completed—some two lanes and the intersection with Ridge Rd. But on Tuesday, when the crew planned to return, the rains came again. If the weather stays fair, the base course at least will be completely laid down before the onset of winter.

At the Youth Center architects for the new addition are reviewing with a structural engineer what steps to take to rectify a construction error. When the concrete flooring for the second level of the addition was poured, wire mesh—called for in the specifications—was omitted. Some alternative, short of breaking away the new flooring, is currently being sought.

The city crew has begun to undertake the job of grading, fertilizing, and seeding the extensive filled area behind the Municipal Service Building and along Kenilworth Ave. Since the final plans for the area, which may become part of the lake park have not been developed, present plans will be confined to providing ground cover to control erosion. In that regard, Parks Director Hans Jorgensen has been consulting with a representative of the Soils Conservation Service, who has been hoping to conduct experiments with plantings for erosion control. This stretch of undeveloped land may possibly be utilized for such a study.

A two-man crew repaired playground equipment throughout the city, including the "mother" swing at the Lake Park. They also took down basketball backboards for cleaning and repair.

One refuse truck has been out of service because of engine trouble, believed repairable under warranty. Despite the shortage of a vehicle, the trash crew has been able to maintain regular schedules.

Womens Club News

The November board meeting of the Woman's Club of Greenbelt will be held on Thursday, Nov. 5, at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Robert G. Parrish, 8814 Orbit Lane, Lanham.

The membership meeting will be held on Thursday, Nov. 12, in the new Library Meeting Room, lower level, Crescent Road, at 7:45 p.m. The guest speaker will be Luther Goldman, who will give a talk on "Know Your Government."

James N. Wolfe

James N. Wolfe, a long-time resident of Greenbelt, died early this week in Florida as the result of a stroke. Wolfe was very active in public life, serving as Mayor of Greenbelt from December 1954 to September 1955. He was first elected to city council in 1949 and then was re-elected in 1951, 1953, and 1955.

McCarl-Buese

Mrs. Delpha T. McCarl and Henry B. Buese were married on October 17 at 11 a.m. at St. Hughes Catholic Church. The ceremony was performed by Father Bolling.

Attending the bride was her sister, Mrs. Nellie T. Saunders, 11 Ridge Road. The best man was Gordon T. Saunders, brother-in-law of the bride.

Present at the service were the bride's children, grandchildren and one great-grandchild. The groom's daughter and son-in-law from Lake George, New York, were also in attendance.

Mrs. Buese has been a resident of Greenbelt since 1938. Her husband is a native of Long Island, New York. The couple met on a cruise last winter. After their honeymoon cruise, they will reside at 9 Forestway, Greenbelt.

SOCC EFFORTS PRIOR TO SITE DECISION

Reviewing some of the factors that went into the school board's reversal of its decision to place the Franklin Delano Roosevelt senior high school on parcel 2, the Save Our Community Committee has drawn attention to its efforts in the final days prior to the October 13 decision.

These efforts, which included contacts with the following agencies and officials, were based on the SOCC feeling that SJR-81 had not been honored. (SJR-81 is the State legislative resolution which called for a moratorium on the construction of a school until alternate sites had been considered.)

The persons contacted included: Russell Cahill of the President's Advisory Council on Environmental Quality, who engaged the interest of the George Washington University Environmental Law Society; Fred Spigler, Jr., the Governor's Administrative Officer for Education, who contacted the State Superintendent of Schools and the President of the State Board of Education; and Attorney General Francis B. Burch.

The SOCC also notified State Superintendent of Schools James A. Sensenbaugh and State Board of Education President Jerome Frampton.

Copies of all correspondences were immediately sent for the hearing record to all members of the Prince Georges Board of Education and to Superintendent Hassel, along with additional data on sewers, costs and traffic rates, mainly in response to official statements made at the hearing.

Lions Begin Drive For Scholarship Fund

by C. M. Cormack

The fast approaching Christmas Holiday Season finds the Greenbelt Lions Club embarked on its eleventh annual scholarship drive. Money obtained from the sale of fruitcakes and candy will be placed in a special bank account. In the spring a member of the graduating class of Parkdale Senior High School who resides in Greenbelt will be awarded a scholarship of up to $1000.00, depending on the proceeds of the drive, to attend the institution of higher learning of his or her choice.

The following Greenbelters have received scholarships over the past ten years: 1961, Stephen Mintz; 1962, Elaine Fields; 1963, Marcus Nusinov; 1964, Naomi Baron; 1965, Anne Noll; 1966, Deanna (Thurston) Gardner; 1967, Cathy (Ryan) Liebe; 1967, Mike Denney; 1968, Ruth Amberg; 1969, Nancy Wegel; 1970, Lynn Pisano; 1971 to be announced.

The scholarships are given in eight equal payments, one at the beginning of each semester. Thus if for some reason a recipient leaves school prior to graduation the unused funds remain in the Scholarship Account.

Your support of this worthwhile endeavor is urgently solicited. Chairman Sam Ewing suggests that you consider sending fruit cakes to out-of-town relatives and friends, or to servicemen overseas, as Christmas presents.

Cakes and candy are now being sold by the Greenbelt Lions and their wives, or may be purchased at the Suburban Trust Bank or Ben Franklin Store in Greenbelt.

New County Zoning Ordinance Adopted

The county commissioners on Friday, October 30, unanimously adopted an amendment to the Prince Georges zoning ordinance which would provide developers with alternatives to the conventional-type zones. These alternatives, termed comprehensive design zones, would reward developers with added building density in exchange for including in their projects such features as more open space, pedestrian walkways, recreation features and community facilities.

The commissioners acted just three days after a public hearing at which majority opinion was in favor of the comprehensive design ordinance. The quick action was necessitated by a State law prohibiting "lame duck" commissioners from acting on zoning matters.

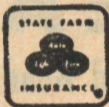

At the hearing, planners and architects testified that the new ordinance would allow much-needed design flexibility, while protecting the public interest. Opponents charged that the law would be contrary to the proposed charter, which prohibits "floating zones."

Center School Budget

A recent directive from Dr. Carl W. Hassel, superintendent of Prince Georges County Schools, instructed all school administrators to provide community groups and individuals an opportunity to become involved in the school's budget requests for the school year '71 - '72.

Following a discussion with the executive board of the Center School PTA, an open meeting has been scheduled for Thursday, November 12, at 8 p.m. in the school library.

Lions Host Lions

by C. M. Cormack

On October 26 the Greenbelt Lions played host to the Little League Lions baseball team. The Little Leaguers had come from behind to win their Division Playoffs and the World Series Championship.

The boys, fourteen in all, and their manager J. Foundain, and coaches. Bow Hawk and Bill Ball ate a hearty meal prepared by the Legion Auxiliary and were then treated to a fine talk by Coach Jack "John" Jackson, baseball coach at the University of Maryland.

Following a question and answer period, a movie about Big League Baseball was shown.

The Greenbelt Lions wish to congratulate the Little Leaguers and their coaches on their splendid victory and also to wish them success in their future endeavors.

LEAF PICK-UP

Starting last week, the leaf vacuum machine has been making its rounds. It will be scheduled for regular runs through the fall season.

As in previous seasons, the city reminds residents to place leaves in piles adjacent to the curb and to be sure that other sorts of debris, such as sticks, are disposed of separately. The machine can easily be put out of commission by debris other than leaves.

Branches and sticks are taken care of by the city's chipper machine, which reduces them to mulch.

Christmas Mail

Postmaster Emory A. Harman today listed six tips for mailing of cards and parcels.

1. For servicemen overseas - "SAM" (Space Available Mail) Christmas parcels can be sent until November 20 for only the small domestic parcel post charge involved from Greenbelt to East of West Coast points of embarkation for military mail. Parcels up to 5 pounds and 60 inches in combined length and girth are accepted at this low rate.

2. Larger parcels (up to 30 pounds with the same length and girth limitations) can be sent "PAL" (Parcel Airlift) mail, provided they are mailed by November 27. The charge is only $1 per parcel, plus the regular domestic parcel post postage - much less than charges that would apply later if straight airmail service must be provided.

3. For all packaging, invest in good quality, sturdy wrapping materials.

4. Insure parcels realistically to cover full value but do not over-insure. A $10 gift, for example, can bring only $10 compensation, if lost, even if "insured" for $100.

5. Get plenty of stamps early.

6. Use ZIP Code as a tool for economy in mailing.

Seniors Excused For Campaign Activities

Over 200 high school seniors have been excused from attending classes during the 3 days preceding the general election to campaign for their favorite political candidate.

Of the 17 senior high schools in the County, Parkdale Senior High had the largest number of students out on the political trail, a total of 93.

BEETHOVEN'S BIRTHDAY

A Beethoven Concert will be presented November 15 at 4 p.m. at the Benjamin Tasker Junior High School, Kenhill Drive and Collington Road in Bowie by the Prince Georges Symphony Orchestra in celebration of the composer's 200th birthday. There is an admission charge.

The orchestra will perform Beethoven's Third Leonor Overture, Fifth Symphony and First Piano Concerto in C major with Glenn Carow as piano soloist.
